

Author Biography:

I am a Texas teen who fell in love with writing when I first started writing in the third grade. I wrote occasionally outside of school, but never really considered it a hobby of mine until the sixth grade, when I started writing the Possessor series at age 12. The idea simply came to me and I felt the need to write it down. Though originally intended to be a short story of about ten pages, I found that the more I wrote, the more the characters and plot developed. They eventually took on a life of their own, and stopping wasn't an option after that. I realize now that writing is my true passion and it's something that I'll never stop doing.

Third Person:

Kaileigh Dillon is a Texas teen who fell in love with writing when she first started in third grade. Occasionally writing outside of school, she never really considered it a hobby until the sixth grade, when she started writing the Possessor series at age 12. The idea simply came to her, and she felt the need to write it down. Though originally intended to be a short story of about ten pages, she found that the more she wrote, the more the characters and plot developed. After they took on a life of their own, Dillon realized that stopping wasn't an option. She now realizes that writing is her true passion and something that she'll never stop doing.

Short:

Kaileigh Dillon is a Texas teen who fell in love with writing while in third grade. She began writing "The Possessor Series" at age 12, and she has already completed one of three planned sequels. What started as a ten page short story has grown into a true passion with a life of its own.